PRICE FIVE CENTS

PAIR IS FINED $200 EACH FOR VIOLATION OF COURT ORDER

The Adams County court Monday afternoon fined Donald Clair Arbogast and Mahlon E. Feeser, both of Littlestown, $200 each for failing to comply with a directive of the court.

The two had been employees of Eddie's Cleaners, Littlestown, and had signed contracts when employed which prohibited their engaging in the same type business for a period of time after termination of employment, within a 50-mile radius of Littlestown.

After the two had left the employ of Eddie's Cleaners, Edward A. and Eveline E. Sheets, Littlestown, trading as Eddie's Cleaners, brought suit in the county court asking the court to stop the two from operating in the cleaning business within the 50-mile radius of Littlestown. The court granted that injunction against the two.

WORKED IN MARYLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Sheets then alleged before the court that the two men were not complying with the order. At a hearing Monday it was determined that the two men had engaged in the business in Maryland about 38 miles from Littlestown and the fines were imposed.

The court handed down an order which in effect "fired" the entire county board of viewers and then renamed them. The court explained that a new ruling requires all members of the county board of viewers to take the oath of office at the beginning of their terms, just as all other county officials are required to take the oath before beginning their work.

WEAVER ASKS WATER, SEWER STUDY HERE

Mayor William G. Weaver Monday evening asked that a five-man committee be named to study the town's water and sewerage systems in the light of future needs.

In the paper he read to borough council at its meeting in the engine house, Weaver said the statements to council last month by Cumberland Twp. Supervisors Adrian Martin and Howard Waybright concerning Cumberland's needs and hopes for water and sewer service led him to "look at the broad picture" and decided to ask a council study.

WATER SUPPLY

With reference to the water supply Weaver stressed:

1. Gettysburg needs replacement of all of the water distribution lines under six inches.

(a) Too many of our fire hydrants have low pressure.

(b) Sections of our residential area have inadequate pressure to give them water on both floors at once.

2. We have been fortunate during the droughts of the last two summers. The authority is to be congratulated for maintaining our water supply.

(a) However, it is my belief that the council should insist on them seeking additional sources to be ready for the future growth of the town and its suburbs.

3. I know nothing of the adequacy of their pumping and filtration system but I assume that they are adequate for today's needs. What about tomorrow?

SEWER SYSTEM

Relative to the sewer system Weaver said:

1. It is my considered opinion that the present filtration plant is inadequate now and cannot provide for the proper disposal of additional sewage it will be called upon to handle in the future.

2. It is my belief that a most comprehensive survey should be made of all sewer lines in the town.

(a) First with the idea of seeing if a large percentage, if not all, of the surface water can be kept from entering its lines.

(b) Secondly to lay new and larger lines wherever needed. Some sections have outgrown their mains.

Weaver asked council to name a committee of five to make the studies.

Mercury Drops To 35 Early Today

This morning was the coldest so far this fall and a stiff frost accompanied a low of 35 degrees at the Gettysburg Times weather station. Freezing temperatures were reported in rural sections.

The previous low for this season was a reading of 38 degrees on September 14.

This morning's low made it the coldest October 6 here since 1950 when the minimum was 34 degrees. On this same date the low was 34 also in 1943 while the record of 33 for the date was set in 1923.

Many parts of the state reported freezing weather today. Philadelphia had a low of 21 while it was 30 at Pittsburgh, a record for this date there. Philadelphia had a low of 37 degrees which was one degree short of a record there.

COUNTY WOMEN HEAR TALK ON BETTER HOMES

Mrs. G. G. R. Lucas, State College, chairman, Home Life Department of the Pennsylvania Federation was the speaker at the fall meeting of the Adams County Federation of Women's Clubs held at the Holiday Inn Monday afternoon.

In developing her theme of "protecting and strengthening the home" she emphasized five points: Maintaining high religious standards; realizing the needs in the field of aging and encouraging senior citizens to be contributing members of society as long as possible; supporting studies of arthritis and rheumatism; raising children carefully in good family environment; planning and developing good techniques in family money spending. She discussed the county project of a sewing contest which will be held next May 1 at the Penn Harris Motor Inn.

SAYS CARE IS BEST METHOD TO AVOID FIRE

There is "no vaccination against fires, but a little care can be nearly as effective," Sgt. Jack N. Keefe, of the state fire marshal's office, told the Rotary Club at its meeting Monday evening in the YWCA.

Introduced by Mayor William G. Weaver, the state police sergeant spoke on fire prevention and held that fire is "the greatest murderer and the greatest thief of them all."

Since 1900, he said, more than 500,000 persons have died from fire in the United States — "more than we lost in any of the wars in which our nation participated."

332 DIED IN PA.

Last year, in Pennsylvania alone, 332 persons died from fires. "This was down from 405 in 1962, but the reports so far this year indicate we will probably be up again." Fire killed 11,800 in the U.S. last year, he added.

Goldwater Would Like Eisenhower Lead Study Mission Of S. Viet Nam

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater steers his campaign for the White House into Pennsylvania today, having declared that if he wins he will ask former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to undertake a study mission to South Viet Nam.

The Republican presidential nominee said he wants Eisenhower to head a team of experts to conduct an on-the-scene investigation of the situation in the embattled Southeast Asian country and seek a solution.

LIKE IKE'S PLAN

Goldwater unveiled the proposal Monday night in a move reminiscent of Eisenhower's own dramatic promise in the waning days of the 1952 campaign to go to war-torn Korea if elected president.

Goldwater's press secretary, Paul F. Wagner, who released the statement, said Eisenhower was not advised of it in ad-

ENROLL 100 FOR EVENING CLASSES HERE

One hundred adults have enrolled in a variety of courses Monday evening during the first semester registration session conducted prior to class time from 7 to 9 p.m. at the annual adult education evening school.

At the close of the first session of Monday evening classes only one course offered fell short of its minimum enrollment of 12 pupils. This was the newly-offered graphic arts printing class to be instructed by T. Bruce Robinson of the high school staff. The cancellation of this course will be delayed one week in an effort to provide an opportunity for additional pupils to enroll.

The Spanish, shorthand, typewriting and ceramics classes attained the minimum class enrollment quota and were in full session Monday evening. There are vacancies in these classes, for a few late registrants next Monday evening.

A total of 66 pupils are attending Monday classes.

Thirty-four preregistered for classes scheduled to begin Thursday evening. However, none of the courses is up to minimum requirements and a second evening of registration will be conducted Thursday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. in the office of the senior high school building.

Courses offered Thursday evening include applied math, a survey of science, basic theory of electricity and electronics, woodworking, drafting, welding, shorthand, typewriting, sewing, oil painting, French, German and Civil Defense protection.

Runaway Reading Boy Caught Here

A 15-year-old Reading youth who ran away from home Monday morning in his father's car was captured by state police here at 5:30 Monday evening.

According to the officers, they went in search when they received reports from the service stations of Charles Showers, Bendersville, and Earl Guise, Gettysburg R. 4, that a youth had driven into the stations, asked that the gasoline tank be filled and then had driven off without paying.

The police went in search of a car of the description given and located the vehicle. When they found it, they found they had the 15-year-old runaway.

DELAY SALE OF OLD SCHOOL; DEED MISSING

Sale of the Lincoln School building on York St. will have to be delayed until the school district acquires a deed it can transfer to the buyer, members of the Gettysburg Area board of school directors learned Monday evening at their October meeting.

No deed for the property can be found either in school records or at the courthouse, the board was told, and the solicitor has been asked to take whatever legal steps are necessary to put the district in position to sell the now unused school. It was erected about 60 years ago as the new town high school and later served as a grade school building. Recently it has been used only for storage purposes.

A Freedom Twp. couple, whose children, one of them a First Grader, have to walk eight-tenths of a mile to meet the school bus, appeared before the board Monday evening to ask that the school bus be brought part way in their road to pick up their youngsters. The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Showers, live in the extreme southern end of Freedom Twp. in the Natural Dam area. A number of other school pupils reside on the same road but the Showers youngsters have the greatest distance to walk.

Looking on with pride were three other "Commanders Fox"—his father and two uncles. His father, Robert E. Fox, Gettysburg R. 2, served in 1960-61 and his two uncles, Paul B. Fox and Richard L. Fox, had served prior to that period.

DELAY ACTION ON PROPOSED NEW TV PLAN

Upper Adams school directors at a meeting Monday evening in Biglerville agreed to delay further action on adoption of the educational television program until they can be assured of good reception on the proposed Channel 33, which will originate educational programs from studios in Hershey. The program was scheduled to begin November 1.

The board heard Superintendent Donald B. Hudson and Principal Charles L. Yost report on a number of administrative programs in the schools this year, including the ITA reading program which was introduced during a summer session for Seventh Graders, a guidance department conference with parents and the number of pupils enrolled in the new German language program.

CITES 1964 ACT

The Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, which provides educational opportunities for youth and adults under the anti-poverty bill, was discussed at length by Hudson, who explained the various sections of the program.

COUNCIL BUYS POLICE DEPT. NEW CAR FOR $2,187 PRICE

The bid of Alston Motors, N. Washington St., to provide a new Plymouth police car for $2,187.22 was accepted by borough council at its meeting Monday.

The action came after the finance and safety committees had studied four bids submitted. Adams County Motors offered a Ford for $2,012.60; H and H Machine Shop a Pontiac for $2,280, and Hunt Ave. a Rambler for a basic price of $1,300 with several alternates which were suggested to improve performance which brought the price up to the $2,000 class. The Hunt Ave. bid listed a 1964 car.

Finance Committee Chairman John Welshonce, in telling council that the committee recommended the Alston Motor bid be accepted, said its decision was based on the fact that the Plymouth had a 50,000-mile or five-year guarantee compared to 24,000-mile or two-year guarantee for the other cars, that, in addition, the Alston bid provided for installation of the screen between the front and back seats and other features which brought that bid within a few dollars of the lowest. "We felt that the additional length of the guarantee made the difference."

NEW POLICE RADIO

Mayor William G. Weaver recommended that council appoint two men to attend a conference on racial tensions to be held November 8 and 9 at the state police barracks in Hershey. "While we have never had any such problems in Gettysburg," Weaver said, "Governor Scranton has asked each community to send two representatives there."

He also urged attendance by councilmen at the seminar on community development and planning to be held for eight weeks, starting Wednesday night at the Gettysburg Senior High School.

Approval was given for the expenditure of $705.75 for a new radio receiver-transmitter placed in the police car. Mayor Weaver reported that the former one had broken down and could not be repaired.

COMMEND OFFICERS

Mayor Weaver reported to council that he had written a letter of commendation to Policeman Ray Breighner for his quick action in attempting, at danger to himself, the rescue of two youngsters in a car when the car caught fire on Baltimore St. while the children were playing with matches in the car. Council also expressed its appreciation for Breighner's action.

STOCKS IRREGULAR

NEW YORK (AP) — Selected stocks were prominent as the stock market nudged ahead irregularly early this afternoon in fairly active trading. Speculative attention was drawn to a scattering of stocks while profits were taken on a number of recent gainers.

General Motors advanced a point even through Wall Street seemed to have exhausted most of its bullishness of Monday based on the tentative agreement between GM and the United Auto Workers Union. The question remained how long the GM strike would last in view of the many local issues still to be decided.

Council Approves Program Of Common Prayer, Public Sessions With Other Faiths

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council voted approval today of an unprecedented new program of common prayer and public meetings between Roman Catholics and other Christians.

The council, a gathering of Catholic prelates from around the world, agreed that Catholics everywhere must undergo a "conversion of heart" toward others to further the goal on Christian unity.

Council fathers meeting in St. Peter's Basilica also approved a declaration that the church must be ready to reaffirm itself where errors may have occurred, and another declaration that Catholic teachings — both for priests and laymen — must conform to the principles of the Christian unity movement "to keep minds open to others."

Approval of these measures came in voting on the second chapter of the schema "de oe-

Badly Hurt By Runaway Tractor

Lee McLaughlin, 67, Fairfield R. D., is a patient in a Harrisburg hospital as the result of injuries received Monday when run over by a tractor while working in Biesecker's Orchard, near Mechanicsburg.

Among injuries suffered by McLaughlin, who is reported to have attempted to stop a "runaway" tractor, were a fractured pelvis and fractured shoulder. Several other bones are reported to have been "cracked."

An attending physician said there were no internal injuries.

60 Lights In Town Will Be Made Brighter

Gettysburg borough council at its meeting Monday evening in the engine house voted to have the power of approximately 60 street lights in the town increased from 1,000 to 2,500 lumen.

The action was taken on motion of Councilman Kenneth Hull, who said a survey showed approximately 60 of the town's lights are still 1,000 lumen and that they could be increased to 2,500 lumen at a cost of $8 per year per light.

The exact number of lights involved was not immediately determined because of plans of the college to take over a portion of the lighting system in the college areas.

ELECT V. PRES.

Councilman Richard Smith said that, possibly, when the college arrangements are completed the town would receive better lighting at little or no cost.

Council elected George W. Naugle, Barlow St., as its vice president. Council President Philip M. Jones was unable to attend Monday's meeting and Mayor William G. Weaver presided at the opening of the session.

Solicitor Donald G. Oyer suggested that council should elect a vice president to preside in the president's absence. Naugle had been elected vice president at the reorganization of council but had turned down the post at that time because of other activities.

RESCIND ORDINANCE

Council adopted an ordinance rescinding the ordinance establishing the shade tree commission in 1959. Naugle said that he had been unable to obtain anyone to serve on the commission. Oyer said that the state law provides that, where there is no shade tree commission, borough council can act in its stead.

William F. Lewis appeared before council as head of a committee of local residents to express concern over the ordinance passed by council July 8, 1963, permitting the Telego Co. of Lewistown to place cables across the borough streets and alleys in connection with a proposed community antenna for television. He quoted a number of communities now considering various community antenna TV proposals and said some feel that the CATV system are being pushed to promote pay television. He also said that the July, 1963, ordinance did not provide protection for subscribers in case the company went broke, nor was there any regulation of the CATV systems except by borough regulation.

After Lewis had left council discussed the matter for some time. Since Telego had taken no action in the 18 months the ordinance had been in effect, to post required bond, council vote to rescind the ordinance.

INDICTMENT IN TRAFFIC DEATH AT X-KEYS; 11 MORE CASES

The Adams County October grand jury Monday afternoon returned 12 true bills and one "not a true bill" on the various indictments before it.

Witherow, Gettysburg R. 4, failure to comply with air pollution directive; Russell T. Leedy, Hanover, failure to support a child; Robert Stanley Wishard, York, violation of a restricted license; Richard A. Wolf, York Springs, failure to support a child; Linda Donnelly, Hanover, assault by motor vehicle; Bernard J. Murren, Hanover R. 4, driving while under the influence; Marion D. Myers, Gettysburg, each charged with establishing a gambling place; Walter L. Stair, Littlestown R. 1, driving while under the influence of intoxicants.

PHONE CASE OUT

The grand jury found "not a true bill" in the charge of malicious mischief by telephone against Donald M. Hoke Jr., Hanover, and placed the costs of the case on the county.

Following the report of the grand jury and the arraignment of defendants, the court noted that there currently are 14 cases for trial. The petit jury begins trials next Monday.

Most of the defendants who entered pleas of innocent asked jury trials. One defendant, Kenneth Wagoner, Gettysburg R. 3, who is charged with driving without the consent of the owner, asked trial without a jury.

CASES CONTINUED

IMPORTANCE OF TEACHER TASK IS EMPHASIZED

"Your life as a school teacher is not in vain if you are helping your pupils to wisdom, virtue and understanding," the Rev. Herbert Harrison, Methodist pastor from Buffalo, told Adams County school teachers at their 110th Institute session Monday afternoon at the Littlestown High School.

"For some youngsters, their teachers may be their one center of sanity these days. Remember that poise and steadiness can be as contagious as the jitters."

"Mankind is your business," he told the teachers and spoke of the importance of love, patience and sympathetic understanding in their profession. "Love," he said, "sees the possibilities among the realities and helps to bring them out." Warning that "young people don't understand duplicity from adults," he told the teachers to "be sure your demonstration of the way you keep the rules doesn't cramp your propaganda."

TEACH THEM TO THINK

"Teach your pupils to think and remember that the men of character are the conscience of their age. There is no social substitute for individual responsibility. It's important that you get across to our young people the fact that there is something each can do to help meet the problems of today." He used a generous supply of humorous stories to illustrate the points in his talk.

He was introduced by Charles W. Hash, New Oxford supervising principal, who presided at the final session of the institute which had opened Monday morning. (Continued On Page 3)

FACES CHECK CHARGES

Rodger L. Nuttle, 24, New Oxford R. 1, was arrested Friday on a charge of passing worthless checks at two Hanover business places. The charge was filed before Justice of the Peace William Y. Nail Jr., Hanover, before whom Nuttle posted $500 bail for a hearing. Police charged Nuttle with passing a $25 check at Sterner's supermarket and one for $84.75 at the Colonial Fair discount store, Hanover.

Of her new assignment Sister Rose Marie commented, "I consider this new position a challenge for me because of the growth of this institution founded by Mother Seton. AGENCY AFFILIATIONS

Sister Rose Marie is a member of the National Commission on Families and Children, a section of the National Conference of Catholic Charities. She has been a participant in the NCCC's workshops on Human Relations and Work with the Unwed Mother. COMEDY PLAYS ALLENBERRY

With the background of a handsome New York apartment and a cast of six, Norman Krasna's sparkling comedy "Kind Sir" got off to a good start Monday evening for a two-week stay at the Allenberry Playhouse, the next to last production of the season. Bettie Endrizzi, playing her 15th Allenberry role over the past 15 years, dressed in lovely gowns, and June Graham who played the part of Myra in "Secret Storm" for several years, play the roles of the roles of the fashionable sisters with complete confidence. Reginald Rowland Jr. plays one of his best roles as Philip Clair, Bettie's wily innamorate, and versatile Don Draper plays the husband of her sister, a member of the State Department at Washington. The cast is rounded out by Kay Celeste as the maid and Edwin Cooper as actress Bettie's wardrobe man. This is a fast-playing society comedy, with excellent dialogue and very humorous situations. The ultra fashionable evening clothes worn by the cast enhance the excellent acting which spins out the plot.

Richard North Gage, director, will present "The Moon Is Blue" October 19-31 as his last production of a good season.

in "the billions of dollars," he said. Last year alone the loss was more than one billion in the U.S. and "$46,000,000 in Pennsylvania alone."

Twenty-five per cent of the fires are caused by matches and cigarettes, another 25 per cent from faulty wiring. "Chaperone your cigarettes, don't let them go out alone," he warned, then added: "Don't smoke in bed, the ashes that fall to the floor might be your own."

LAUDS VOLUNTEERS

Thirty men comprise the fire marshal division of the state police, "and through their working arrangement with the fire chiefs of the state we believe we have the best setup of any state. The volunteer firemen continuously amaze me. I know we state police gripe about getting up at 2 in the morning to investigate a case and we get paid for it. The volunteer fireman works all day and then uncompensatingly gets out in the middle of the night to put someone else's fire out."

Some 1,900 volunteers throughout the state, mostly fire chiefs, make reports of fires to the fire marshal's office. "They are the first ones on the scene and they do a very good job. As a result of their cooperation, we have probably the best record in the U. S. for convictions in arson cases."

While most fires are caused by carelessness or accident, some are caused by arson. "Here there is a problem, for first you have to prove that there was no other cause for the fire. Then usually most of the evidence of arson has been either destroyed by the fire or in the effort to put out the blaze. There are many causes of arson. Sometimes people set fires just for the lark, other times because there is something wrong with them mentally and sometimes because bills are pressing and business is poor. Someone has said that arson is caused by the friction of the mortgage rubbing on the insurance policy."

Forecasts New Help For Heart

CHICAGO (AP)—A New York surgeon today forecast development within two years of permanent, auxiliary heart pumps for human use — implanted within the body and powered by batteries carried by a shoulder harness.

Dr. Yukihiko Nose of the State University of New York's Downstate Medical Center, Brooklyn, said this possibility is suggested by successful experiments in dogs. These tests use a cigarette pack-sized, inflatable plastic bulb pump implanted in the aorta, the main pathway of blood from the heart.

Equipment for powering the pump's tiny motor and supplying compressed air is carried in a 34-pound package attached to a harness worn by the dog.

Contraction and expansion of the bulb, aiding in pumping blood through the heart, is controlled by an electronically powered valve triggered by the animal's own heartbeat.

Dr. Nose told reporters about it at the 50th clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons. He was summarizing a formal report prepared for the meeting by himself and three colleagues.

Gen. Eisenhower Opposes Airing U.S. Defense Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was in the middle today — between Democrats and Republicans, each claiming he was on their side in a dispute over nuclear-weapons control.

It began Monday when the GOP unveiled a task-force report claiming President Johnson had oversteered his control of field-type nuclear weapons. This, the GOP group contended, has damaged U.S. security.

Eisenhower appeared at a New York news conference, but wouldn't endorse or reject the report.

He deplored the injection of the nuclear-weapons issue into the presidential campaign and added: "I don't think these are things that ought to be talked out in detail... I don't think we should reach conclusions telling the President what he should do or what he should say."

AGREES WITH IKE

The White House promptly released a statement declaring that President Johnson agreed with Eisenhower that "it is not in the best interest of the country to take our defense plans and make them public."

Dean Burch, Republican national chairman, said Johnson's comment was "a patent attempt to get off the hook of an issue which is embarrassing him and his administration because the American people realize the Democrats have used the question of nuclear weapons to strike fear and horror into their hearts."

Burch has complained in the past about Democratic campaign material he charged was designed to frighten people into believing Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee, was trigger-happy and might bring on a nuclear war.

Although he hasn't mentioned it since he began formal campaigning for the White House, Goldwater proposed last Oct. 24 in Hartford, Conn., that the NATO commander be given more authority over the use of tactical nuclear weapons.

He repeated the proposal in a campaign position paper during his primary race for the nomination and in speeches June 30 and Aug. 24.

Johnson has contended that only the president should have the final say on use of any nuclear weapon.

"SMALL WORLD"

In area the world is large... it stretches far and wide... but when we have things to conceal... it's difficult to hide... for shady ways and evil deeds... cannot be held at bay... they're vain to tell the whole wide world... and eager to display... perhaps our conscience causes this... our moral fear and doubt... whatever is the case somehow... our wrongdoings will out... yes we can travel far and wide... disguised from friend and foe... but when we least expect it... somewhere someone's bound to know... so it is best to face our faults... and thereby pad the fall... or else we learn to regret... this world is very small.

GIVES TEST RESULTS

Father Lyons spoke briefly, thanking the members of the PTA for their support and assistance where needs of the school are concerned. He presented Jack Miller, guidance counselor at the school, who gave statistics on the first year's full guidance program at Delone. He asked parents not to hesitate to make appointments with him for conferences for career planning for their Delone students. He noted that mental ability tests for the Ninth Graders; achievement tests for the Tenth Grade and SCAT tests for the Eleventh Graders resulted in above average results. He also gave statistics on the national merit scholarship program and college board examinations.

The class of 1964 also produced 10 religious vocations. There are available at Delone in Mr. Miller's guidance office from 300 to 400 college catalogs, from 300 to 400 occupation brochures, scholarship information, complete armed services materials placed by recruiting personnel, occupational outlook handbooks and a wealth of other material for the students' use.

The need for a technical school in the area was discussed by Father Lyons, who suggested that individuals in Adams County write to their congressmen expressing their views and suggestions for the realization of this need.

The Delone PTA executive board will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in the faculty room.

NAMES OTHERS

The other men he mentioned for the task are former Minnesota Rep. Walter H. Judd, once a leading Republican voice in Congress on foreign affairs; retired Adm. Arleigh Burke, former chief of naval operations; and retired Gen. Mark Clark, a top U.S. commander during World War II and the Korean War.

Goldwater already has named Judd to head a six-man task force charting a Republican course on South Viet Nam and Southeast Asia.

"As this country's foremost military man and foremost statesman, Gen. Eisenhower is the man best qualified to fulfill this critical mission," Goldwater said in outlining his study plan.

"SOUNDTEST ADVICE"

"If I am elected I intend to come to grips with this vital question and at that time I want the very best and soundest advice available," Goldwater said.

The senator, who has made Johnson's policies in South Viet Nam a key campaign target, also said: "The unfortunate fact is that we are at war in South Viet Nam. American boys are fighting and dying in the Asian jungles and it becomes more apparent every day that this administration is drifting — that it has no policy worthy of the name."

Previously the members of the board of view took the oath each time they began a view at court order, but did not take one beginning their terms. To solve the problem, the court simply handed down an order removing all of the members previously appointed and then reappointed them so they would begin new terms.

NEW ATTORNEY

The members of the "new" board of viewers include Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, Leroy H. Winebrenner, Roy D. Renner, John K. Lott, George S. Steinberger, Eugene Murren, John W. Brehm, Cameron Garretson and William Weidner. Attorney J. Francis Yake Jr., who had been a member of a multitude of the boards over a period of years, had previously asked to be released of the duty.

Attorney Eugene R. Hartman was named master in the divorce action of Ethel M. (Griest) Cooley versus Donald E. Cooley. Attorney S. M. Raffensperger was named master in the divorce action of Myron Lee Kadle versus Thea Leotta Kadle.

On a petition handed the court by the parties involved, Paul E. Bucher, 372 E. Middle St., was ordered to pay $30 per week for the support of three children, with the amount to increase by $2.50 per child per week as each child starts kindergarten or school. He was also directed to post the usual $500 bond and pay the costs.

Grade pupils and guidance department leaders, and said he anticipates that "these meetings will be of great help" to parents and the school program. He said that 90 parents attended the conference, "the largest attendance we have ever had." He also told the board that 96 pupils are enrolled in the German language program.

LIMIT PROGRAMS

Hudson announced that the elementary schools will not conduct the magazine sales program this year. He also said the school is attempting to keep Wednesday evenings free of school programs in order to permit pupils to attend church activities. However there will be some exceptions to this plan because of difficulty in changing some schedules.

Business Manager David Houck reported 28,789 lunches were served in September, an average of 1,370 daily. The income from the four cafeterias was $9,672.10 and expenses were $12,898.70. The rebate from the state will be $1,245.66. The cafeteria operated at a loss of $191.42 in the month of September, but board members felt this was good since all supplies had to be purchased and the only surplus was butter.

The board approved the payment of bills in the amount of $94,129.78 which includes a payroll of $40,392.76 and rent of $38,600. Receipts for September were $408,542.95.

ing. Seminars occupied most of the day in a dozen subject fields.

The teachers were told in the opening address Monday morning by Dr. John S. Cartwright, professor of education at Lehigh University, that the school library is the hub of the school program.

His subject was the theme for the institute, "Adjusting to New Trends." He was introduced by County Superintendent of Schools M. Francis Coulson, who presided at the general session in the morning.

In his look ahead to developing trends in public education, Dr. Cartwright spoke of the importance of releasing the teacher from comparatively unimportant duties "to do the job she is trained to do." He spoke specially of new trends in the teaching of reading, the uses of automation and computers in the school and discussed the growing interest in organizing schools on the 4-4-4 plan instead of the 6-6 division generally used now.

The increase of non-graded elementary and secondary schools was noted and he spoke of opportunities in the extension of the school year to 12 months with summer school, opportunities for curriculum development and teacher travel.

He said the use of substitute teachers releases teachers for program development in school time and urged professional libraries for teachers. Educational television and programmed learning were other new phases of the educational field that were discussed. Better understanding of growth patterns through testing programs were described by Dr. Cartwright who concluded by telling the teachers: "God has given us a grand opportunity to be architects of a new state. Let us be equal to the task."

Most teachers returned to their classrooms today but in Gettysburg the public schools remained closed for BIE Day activities.

new mental attitude to remove suspicions and misconceptions occurs, the ecumenism movement will not make great progress. All Catholics "in some way have responsibility for the sins of disunity," 2,076 to 92.

PUBLIC PRAYER

—There is "absolute need" for public and private prayer for Christian unity and the possibility of common prayer with the separated brethren, 1,872 to 292.

—Catholic training must conform to unity principles and Catholics should cooperate with Orthodox, Protestants and Anglicans in all fields of public life to give "a common Christian witness to the world, 2,099 to 62.

The proposal for common prayer in itself represented a giant step forward toward better inter-Christian relations.

Pope Paul VI, in his meeting both this year and last with the non-Catholic observers at the council, said the "our father" prayer with them. Catholics and non-Catholics at unity meetings elsewhere have joined in this prayer.

FIRST ACTION

But never before has the church gone on record as officially approving a program of common prayer.

It would be left to the various national bishops conferences to decide when, how and in what circumstances there could be common prayers between Catholics and other Christians in their countries.

The chapter also calls for more public meetings "on an equal footing" between Catholics and non-Catholic Christians — Protestants, Anglicans and Orthodox — to pursue the dialogue for closer mutual understanding and respect.

Queen Begins Controversial Canadian Tour

By MAX HARRELSON

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I. (AP) — The royal yacht Britannia cruised slowly toward Prince Edward Island's capital today, bringing Queen Elizabeth II for a crowded program of public appearances at the start of her controversial Canadian tour.

The Britannia was to dock in Charlottetown harbor shortly before noon after a trip from Summerside, 45 miles away. The queen arrived by jet plane Monday at the Summerside Royal Canadian Air Force base for her fourth visit to Canada.

GUESTS LIMITED

She was welcomed by Governor-General Georges Vanier and Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, but guests at the brief air base ceremonies were by invitation only and consisted mainly of local dignitaries, air force personnel and their families.

Although the queen was probably not aware of it, the base was sealed off by tight security checks. All newsmen entering the gates had to show credentials and were stopped by security officers inside. Armed air force personnel watched from the roof of the huge hangar where the queen was greeted. Police cars cruised adjoining roads.

CROWDED STREETS

Crowds lined the streets of Summerside as the queen and her husband, Prince Philip, drove in a closed limousine to board the Britannia. At the dock mounted police guards in khaki coveralls patrolled in the background, with a police dog on a tight chain.

Authorities are primarily concerned over the Quebec segment of the queen's visit, which will follow her stay in this city of 20,000. But they were taking no chances even in this friendly maritime province.

Extra measures are being taken in Quebec because of threats of violence from French-speaking advocates of independence for Quebec.

The queen's program include a 19 - minute drive through downtown Charlottetown. For security reasons the authorities ruled out an open car.

Shell Explodes After Fifty-one Years: Using a small cap on an unexploded shell, picked up on Gettysburg's field of battle fifty-one years ago, Abraham Orris, a prominent farmer of Lower Frankford township, Cumberland County, saw the relic blown into fragments, the powder remaining active after half a century. Mr. Orris came into possession of the shell rather recently when he secured it from an estate of which he was the administrator. He became nervous about having the unexploded missile about the place and suggested to a gang of telephone linemen who happened to be digging pole holes in his section, the advisability of placing the shell in one of the holes, attaching a dynamite cap to same and by use of the battery exploding the shell. The linemen accepted the proposition and placing the shell in the hole attached a cap to it and then applied the battery. The explosion was terrific and the shell was blown into fragments and more earth was torn loose than six dynamite sticks would have accomplished. Many of the shells held here in town or sold in past years to tourists would explode in the same way, it is believed, if some effort was made to "set them off."

Today's Talk

LEARN TO "TAKE IT!"

Trouble is something that is the intertance of all. Some can handle it, and some seem unable to. But there it is — always around! Since it cannot be avoided, the thing to do is to master our attitude toward it, and prove victorious over it.

There are ever "trouble makers" in this world — a big group of them. They are the ones who stir up strife and wars, and who initiate trouble between classes and races. They are the intolerants. They are to be avoided, as all such should be avoided, who seek to confuse the traffic of ideas and peaceful means toward the building of a better world.

But it's the trouble that comes closest to us, that becomes intimate, that concerns us most. Trouble in the home, trouble at the office, trouble resulting from the loss of friends, relatives, or financial burdens. There is no trouble, however, that cannot be handled successfully. We can determine to be bigger than any trouble that may come to us. We can overcome it. We can rise above it. We can learn — to take it. And be the better for having triumphed.

We must learn to take trouble in its stride, facing it with courage and resolution. We can even help others to handle their troubles happily. Each time we do, we learn to face our own with greater ability. It is wise, however, to keep our own troubles to ourselves, for no one else ever wants them.

Too many of our troubles are imaginary anyway. They are poor associates. They tear down morale and are the enemies to health and happiness. They are contagious, too. Therefore we should get rid of them in the quickest possible manner. One way is to forget them, and put something happy in their place. They don't like happy associates!

The fighter takes trouble "on the chin" — and comes back for more. This is because he thinks only of victory. We can learn from him. There was a familiar song, during the first World War, about packing up your troubles in "an old kit bag" and "smile, smile." Better to have thrown the old kit bag away!

But since trouble is so universal, let us learn to "take it." Let us go ahead with the important tasks before us with a song in our hearts, with head high, and eyes straight forward!

Just Folks

POKING THE FIRE

Of all the tasks about the place
When winter comes to shut us in There's one which constantly I race
Against both old and young to win.

'Tis mine to do 'gainst all who try
To gratify their own desire.
'Just sit you still,' to them I cry,
'I'll be the one to poke the fire!"

My father made us clear the way
From mother down to sleeping dog.

"Move back a bit!" he used to say,
'And give me room to stir the log."

As selfish he, so selfish I Jump for the rounded shield of wire.

"Move back a bit!" as he, I cry,
'And give me room to poke the fire."

Something there is about it all
Too difficult for words to tell,
But smouldering logs which twist and fall

Work something like a magic spell,
And spark and fame and smoke
combine

In scenes of which I never tire,
So to the end I'll claim as mine
The joyous right to poke the fire.

Asks Govt. Aid For Downtown Areas

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Genevieve Blatt, who opposes Republican incumbent Sen. Hugh Scott for the U. S. Senate seat in the Nov. 3 general election, has called for federal aid to downtown business districts as well as downtown residential areas.

"The centers of employment and shopping are steadily decaying and neighborhoods and housing are going with them," Miss Blatt told the women's chapter of the West Philadelphia Board of Realty Monday.

The Democratic nominee said federal law prohibits any wide-scale downtown renewal projects in business, industrial and commercial areas. "To save family investments in homes, the integrity of neighborhoods, said the economic life of the city," Miss Blatt said, "federal assistance must be expanded so that we can engage in genuine commercial renewal in order to reverse the downward spiral in real estate value."

TOKYO (AP)—There is one standard for feminine beauty at the Miss Universe contest, and an entirely different one at the Olympic Games.

We have to use a different yardstick — we get a different class of contestant over here.

In fact, to be brutally frank, after looking over the crop gathering for the Olympics which open Saturday, it must be reported that there are very few lady athletes whose faces will stop traffic.

Clocks, yes.

SOME STATISTICS

Oh, there are the exceptions. Some of the swimming girls fill their suits quite neatly.

The lady gymnasts have been known to set hearts tumbling. But when it comes to lady shot putters and volley ball players, well, there are some here that even their mothers would admit are not ravishing. They also run heavily to shoulders.

The best estimate on a healthy miss from one unidentified Eastern European state produced these vital statistics: 58-40-40.

SHOULDERS FIRST

The first figure is for the shoulders, and the other two were selected at random lower down.

And those stainless steel teeth favored by Iron Curtain dentists do not exactly enhance the over-all aspect. In fact, where the sun is right, a Bulgarian volley ball player can flash secret messages with her teeth and block the view of the entire backcourt at the same time.

Now, this slowdown on pulchritude in the sweat socks set has long been hidden in a secret code.

VOCABULARY EXPLAINED

Sports writers, gentlemen all, sort around in their vocabularies and come up with descriptive words for lady athletes that do not completely cover the case.

Here are some familiar examples, and their real meanings: Attractive — Well, she must be a girl because the Russians say she is, and we can't even get an agreement to inspect their nuclear bomb sites.

Pretty — Nobody has ever actually stepped on her face with a spiked shoe.

Lovely — She bathes after every race.

Gorgeous — She parked her truck outside.

Glamorous — She has had at least one permanent since spring.

Vivacious — She speaks English.

The first base hit in New York's Shea Stadium, home of the Mets, was a home run by Pittsburgh left fielder Willie Stargell.

Herman Barron, pro at Fenway Golf Club, White Plains, N.Y., won the 1964 Philadelphia Open and in 1963 he won the PGA Seniors title and the world Seniors crown in England.

Yankees Favored To Win In 1st Series Game Wednesday; Ford And Sadecki To Start

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ray Sadecki, a 23-year-old lefty with his first big winning year, will tote a tremendous burden Wednesday as the opening pitcher for the underdog St. Louis Cardinals against Whitey Ford, the New York Yankees' cagey veteran.

Ford's experience under fire is one reason why the Yanks are 17-10 favorites to take it all and 6-5 in the opener. It will be Whitey's 22nd Series start.

The Series schedule, which calls for a day off for travel after the second and fifth games, permits the first-game pitchers to make three starts if it goes the seven-game limit.

20-GAME WINNER

Because Johnny Keane, Cardinal manager, had to use Bob Gibson in relief in Sunday's final game to clinch the National League pennant, he is forced to start Sadecki, a 20-game winner who was knocked out of the box Saturday by the New York Mets.

It figures to be the Yanks' Big Three of Ford, Mel Stottlemyre and Jim Bouton against the Cardinals' trio of Sadecki, Gibson and Curt Simmons. Nobody else is likely to start.

Al Downing, normally a regular, probably will be in the Yankee bullpen which will be hurtling without Pedro Ramos, the stopper of the last month of the season.

RAMOS NOT ELIGIBLE

Ramos is not eligible for the Series because he was acquired from Cleveland too late to be placed on the list which closes Sept. 1. The absence of the handsome Cuban may be fatal to Manager Yogi Berra, who learned to lean more and more on Ramos in the stretch drive to his first pennant.

"It all depends on how things are going," said Berra in New York Monday after he sent the Yanks through a light drill at Yankee Stadium.

Tony Kubek, regular Yankee shortstop, and Julian Javier, the Cards' second baseman, were on the doubtful list because of injuries.

LINZ AT SS

Kubek, in fact, very likely will miss the entire Series because of a jammed right wrist that has kept him out of action for two weeks.

Javier suffered a badly bruised left hip Saturday in a collision with the Mets' Bob Taylor. The Cards were optimistic about his playing but had Dai Maxvill ready. Maxvill, normally a weak hitter, came through with flying colors in the weekend games.

Phil Linz, the Yanks' harmonica-playing rascal, undoubtedly will start at shortstop. Linz has been getting key hits in the Yanks' late drive.

CARDS HAVE SPEED

Speed will be on the side of the Cards with Lou Brock, their base-stealing whiz, Curt Flood and Javier the best of the lot. They will put pressure on Elston Howard, the Yanks' fine catcher, just as the dashing Dodgers of Los Angeles did last year in a four-straight sweep.

Both clubs scheduled tune-up at Busch Stadium today with the Yanks, who were flying in, due to follow the Cardinals. Busch Stadium, with its pavilion in right field only 310 feet from the plate, provides a fine target for left-handed sluggers like Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle and Joe Pepitone of the Yanks and Bill White and Brock of the Cards.

It will be the fifth Series meeting of the Yanks and Cards, who split the first four. Berra is the first rookie manager to win a pennant since Eddie Dyer of the Cards in 1946, the year they beat the Boston Red Sox.

WON LAST IN '46

It will be the fifth Series meeting of the Yanks and Cards, who split the first four. Berra is the first rookie manager to win a pennant since Eddie Dyer of the Cards in 1946, the year they beat the Boston Red Sox.

GHS RESERVES DEFEAT BOLTS FOR 1ST WIN

After being held to a 6-6 deadlock at intermission, the Gettysburg High School reserves came back strong in the second half to defeat Littlestown 26-6 here Monday afternoon.

All of the Warriors' scores came after long drives with Larry White setting up one on a 40-yard punt return to the five-yard line. In the opening period Weikert raced over from the six but was stopped when he tried to run for the point.

The longest run of the game came in the second quarter when Tom Fox gathered in a Gettysburg punt and raced 56 yards for the Bolts' lone touchdown. A penalty cost the Warriors a touchdown in the quarter.

Gettysburg took the lead in the third stanza when Hetrick raced over from the 12. Again Weikert was halted in running for the point.

John Heiser and White scored on runs of four and three yards, respectively, in the last period and both times Heiser crashed over for the extra points.

SQUAD PLAYS WELL

White called an excellent game at quarterback for the winners and his short passes to Bergdale were big items in the TD drives. Leiser, fullback, also helped with needed yardage at crucial points. Defensively, Charley Lilley's outfit contained Littlestown most of the way.

Gettysburg, now 1-1, plays at Scotland next Monday. Littlestown, 0-3, is idle until October 19 when it is host to James Buchanan.

MAXWELL CLUB HONORS WARD

Jim Ward, Gettysburg College's brilliant junior quarterback, was honored Monday in Philadelphia by the Maxwell Club for his fine performance against Bucknell on September 26.

The Maxwell Award goes to the east's top college player and the top high school player of the week. The club selected Ward from among all the college players, both small and major, for his job in guiding the Bullets to a 12-7 win over Bucknell. In awarding the Bullets griddler on Monday, the club also recognized the fact that he had just guided Gettysburg to a 22-19 upset win over Delaware.

"Greasy" Neal, one of the all-time great football players and coach, was the main speaker. His topic dealt with the importance of the quarterback. Many Gettysburg athletes have been so honored by the club through the years. The last to receive the Maxwell Award was "Bucky" Kempton former Gettysburg tackle.

Ward was accompanied to Philadelphia by his coach, Gene Haas, athletic director Henry T. Bream, and sports information director Bob Kenworthy.

last week's Fresno Open, which left Palmer on top with $110,743 and Nicklaus a close second with $107,717.

Casper has won $79,019 to date this year, followed closely by Bob Nichols with $73,537 and Tony Lema with $72,555.

Former Yankee General Manager Roy Hamey now resides in Arizona. He retired after last season.

MAUCH GIVEN RENEWAL OF HIS CONTRACT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—General Manager John Quinn of the Philadelphia Phillies says he and owner Bob Carpenter think Manager Gene Mauch has done a terrific job, despite the team's National League tailspin that cost them the pennant.

Quinn made the comment Monday after giving Mauch a new, two-year contract with a reported increase in salary.

The Phillies finished in a tie for second place with St. Louis after blowing a 6½-game lead in the last two weeks, during which they dropped 10 games in a row.

GOT PAY RAISE

Mauch, whose present contract had another year to run, signed the new pact in Quinn's office before leaving for the World Series in St. Louis.

The 38-year-old Mauch, who first signed to manage the Phillies in 1960, reportedly got a substantial increase over the reported $40,000 he received this year.

"Both Bob (Carpenter) and myself think Gene's done a terrific job and we wanted him to know we felt that way," Quinn explained.

The Phillies have climbed steadily since finishing eighth during Mauch's first two years as manager. In 1963, the team finished fourth and this season they had 92 victories, a club record.

CANNER JV'S NIP NORTHERN ON BIG RALLY

Biglerville High School's junior varsity football team spotted Northern a 13-0 lead at half time and then came from behind to take a 19-13 decision Monday afternoon at Dillsburg. It was the second win in as many starts for the Cannners.

Northern scored in the first period on a sustained drive of 70 yards with Colvin crashing over from the six. The run for the point was stopped.

The Polar Bears scored again in the final seconds of the second quarter. A Biglerville punt went out of bounds on the Northern 23 from where the drive was launched. Several long passes were completed to set up the score which came when McClure raced around left end from the one-yard line on a fourth down situation as the half ended. Colvin plunged for the point.

Bill Williams' Cannners came back with a fine all-around performance in the second half and held Northern without a first down while pulling the game from the fire.

JACOBY SCORES

The Cannners moved 68 yards for a touchdown in the second period on well-chosen plays by Carey and with Jacoby and Cline doing most of the ball-toting. A 55-yard play for an apparent score by Jacoby was nullified by a penalty. The score finally came when Jacoby raced over from the 12. A run for the point failed.

Dennis raced around left end from the four-yard line to climax a drive from midfield by Biglerville and Jacoby plunged for the point to tie the score with two minutes of play remaining.

A recovered fumble gave the Cannners the fall on the 42 and Jacoby finally raced over from the three with 55 seconds left.

Next Monday afternoon Biglerville will play at Shippensburg. The lineups:

Penn State Works On Offense Today

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Penn State's Nittany Lions, looking for their first football victory of the season, worked out in sweatsuits for 90 minutes Monday night.

Coach Rip Engle, preparing his team for a Saturday encounter with Army, concentrated on offense.

Engle said two players injured in last Saturday's 22-14 loss to Oregon would see no rough action this week but would probably play in the Army game. They are Dick Gingrich, starting safety and No. 2 quarterback, who suffered a head injury, and offensive tackle John Simko, who hurt an ankle.

OPEN OLYMPIC MEETING WITH FUSS BREWING

By TED SMITS

Associated Press Sports Editor

TOKYO (AP)—The emperor of Japan declared open the full meeting of the International Olympic Committee today with customary pomp, but behind the scenes a full-scale donnybrook brewed.

Wednesday's working sessions will be stormy. Soviet Russia will probably raise the GAMEFO issue, East Germany wants full membership in the IOC instead of sharing a team with West Germany, and the election of the international president will be announced.

Track and swimming athletes who took part in the unauthorized GAMEFO — the Games of the Emerging Forces — at Jakarta, Indonesia, have been suspended by their international federations thereby keeping them out of the Olympics.

VOTES UNDER SEAL

As a result, North Korea and Indonesia may not compete here at all, but observers believe the Russians may raise the issue in the full committee meeting and possibly seek to override the ban.

Russia, too, favors East Germany's full membership in the IOC but Avery Brundage of Chicago, IOC president who mediated the German dispute in 1952 and created a single, all-German team, has always considered this sports unification as one of the outstanding successes of the Olympic movement.

8,000 TO COMPETE

All the ballots in the contest between Brundage, seeking reelection as IOC president, and his only rival, Lord David Burghley, marquis of Exeter, are here under seal and all that remains is the announcement.

Brundage is a stern upholder of pure amateurism. The English nobleman is considered to be more liberal. Advance hints point to a narrow Brundage victory.

Virtually all the 8,000 athletes from the 98 nations expected to compete here are now on hand for the opening ceremonies Saturday, Oct. 10. The Games end Oct. 24.

OILERS LEAD AFL OFFENSE

NEW YORK (AP) — The Houston Oilers are the top offensive team in the American Football League. They also are last in team defense. Maybe that's a clue to why the Oilers are 2-2 and in third place in the Eastern Division.

The weekly team statistics released today show the Oilers with 1,429 yards gained in total offense for an average of 357.2 per game. The Buffalo Bills, co-leaders in the East, are second with 1,422 and 355.5. The Kansas City Chiefs, tops in the Western Division, are third with 1,052 and 350.6.

On defense, the Oilers have yielded 1,476 yards, more than they have gained, for an average of 369.0 per game. In contrast, the Boston Patriots, tied with Buffalo at 4-0 in the East, are No. 1 in defense. The Pats have allowed 856 yards for a 214.0 average.

Houston leads in passing offense and Buffalo in rushing. Boston leads in defense against passing and also against rushes.

Palmer, Nicklaus To Play In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — Twenty-three of the 34 teams entered in the 12th annual International Golf Championship and Canada Cup matches have named their representatives.

The team and individual competitions are scheduled for Dec. 3-6 at the Royal Kananapali golf course, Maui Islands, Hawaii.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus of the United States are the defending champions. Nicklaus also will be defending his individual title.

games during the month as the Cardinals came from behind to take the National League pennant. He allowed only 45 hits in 62 innings and had an earned-run average of 1.89.

MAT MEDALS PREDICTED FOR U. S. ENTRIES

TOKYO (AP) — American hopes for medals in the 1964 Olympics appear dimmer in freestyle wrestling and brighter in Greco-Roman wrestling compared with the U.S. performance at Rome in 1960.

The United States won three gold medals in freestyle at Rome, one less than Turkey. But according to U.S. Coach Rex Peery, "this was unusual, individual championships will be spread out this year."

Greco-Roman coach Dean Rockwell said of his squad: "It is the best ever put together for international competition and should score higher than any previous team."

TOP U. S. HOPES

America has never won a medal in Olympic Greco-Roman competition, but did manage one bronze medal in both the 1962 and 1963 World Championships.

Four experienced performers are the top U.S. hopes for medals in freestyle. They are: 114.5 pounds — Gray Simmons, a 1960 Olympian; 125.5 pounds — Dave Auble, third in the 1962 World Championships; 154 pounds — Greg Ruth, third in the 1963 World Championships, and 191.5 pounds — Dan Brand, also a 1960 Olympian.

Stiffest opposition for the American squad should be Russia, team champion in '63, Bulgaria and Turkey in all weights and Japan in the lower four weight divisions.

JOLT TO HOPES

American hopes for a medal in Greco-Roman wrestling received a jolt when two time Olympian Richard Wilson, already bothered by a bad knee, strained his other knee. Coach Rockwell considered Wilson (114.5 pounds) his best hope for a medal before his latest injury.

Other experienced Greco-Roman men are: 154 pounds — Jim Burke, who won America's first medal in Greco-Roman competition; 171 pounds — Russ Camilleri, a 1960 Olympian, and 191.5 pounds — Wayne Baughman, a 1963 World Championship performer.

FEATURE GAME FORECAST TOP IN GRID GAME

Daniel Brown, 235 S. Howard Ave., was the winner of the second weekly football contest conducted by The Gettysburg Times and 16 cooperating merchants, his correct prediction of 20 points for the feature game being the deciding factor. In the feature game Bowling Springs defeated Biglerville 20-0.

Brown was one of six contestants naming 13 winners in 14 games. Two games were eliminated when the Duke-Tulane and Louisiana State-Florida contests were called off because of the hurricane which struck Louisiana. Jimmy Flynn, 660 Red Patch Ave., took the second award with his feature-game total of 18 while Tom E. Callahan, 155 Hanover St., was third on his game prediction of 21 points.

A ruling this year states that the total point prediction closest and which does not exceed the actual total, decides the winners.

OFF THE MARK

Three other contestants picked 13 winners but their feature game totals were far off the mark.

This week's games are listed elsewhere in today's edition of The Times in a full page of advertisements of the cooperating merchants.

Each week a total of $25 in merchandise certificates are offered as prizes, $15 for first prize, $7.50 for second, and $2.50 for third. Certificates are mailed to the winners and must be used within 30 days.

NEW COMEDY SERIES GETS SLOW START

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—NBC introduced its new economy-size comedy package Monday night. "90 Bristol Court" is the overall title for 90 minutes of television which really three separate situation comedies. It concerns people who live in what looks like a plush, expensive California garden apartment, complete with swimming pool. One character who pops up in all is a janitor who acts like a one-man Greek chorus, speaking directly to the audience.

First program of the trio was "Karen," who in the person of young Debbie Watson is a pretty teen-ager. It got off to a rather sluggish start with something about a blind date followed by prolonged confusion about identities.

WOBBLY START
"Harris Against the World," the second segment, stars that excellent actor Jack Klugman. The first episode got off on a wobbly foot with an exaggerated story about an incredibly stupid secretary and a lost report which produced a lot of anguished forehead slapping but not very much humor. If Klugman is given some decent material he could pull this one up to a rather bright half hour.

Finally there was the broadly slapstick "Tom, Dick and Mary," about a pair of new-laws who take in a friend as a boarder to help with the rent. The two men are interns — and what goes on in their hospital, including a pillow fight and a patient running around the corridors in his nightshirt, may give Casey, Kildare and the American Medical Association the jimjams.

The principals, however, are young and attractive and maybe it will grow better with age.

"The Andy Williams Show" also arrived on NBC as a weekly program Monday night, happily with the same style, easy manner and good taste that made it a standout last season when it turned up once a month.

Recommended tonight: "World War One," CBS, 8-8:30 EDT — "Doomed Dynasties," one of the documentary series exploring changes in ruling families in the conflict; Telephone Hour, NBC, 10-11—Musical hour with Bing Crosby, Burl Ives and the McGuire Sisters.

George Poole, former assistant trainer for Greentree Stable, has replaced Jimmy Jones as Calumet Farm's trainer. Jones is the new director of racing at Monmouth Park in Oceanport, N.J.

Airman Stephen L. Study, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Study, Littlestown R. 1, has completed the first phase of his Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Texas.

WILMA HAPPY IN ROLE OF MOTHER NOW

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Wilma Rudolph, triple gold medal winner in the 1960 Olympics, says that the world acclaim that was hers four years ago is fresh in her memory but that she wouldn't trade her job today for a trip to Tokyo.

Wilma is now Mrs. Ethridge, and she's a mother and a teacher in the second grade of a Clarksville, Tenn., public school.

"So far," she says, "I have had no longing to be in Tokyo for the Olympics this year."

WOULDN'T TRADE
But this girl, who took first place at Rome in the 100 and 200-meter dashes and anchored the winning 400-meter relay team, concedes that "I might have moments when I will wish I were running . . ."

"But I am happy here, and I wouldn't trade my baby for another opportunity to run in the Olympics."

Wilma's baby is four-month-old Djuana Lei, and it was knowing she would be a mother last spring that turned Wilma's thoughts from the Olympics.

WON'T RUN AGAIN
"I had planned to go, but now I know that I will never run again competitively. I will be too old when the next Olympics come around (1968), and there's no purpose for running in anything else," Wilma is 24 years old.

"The thing that I miss most about not competing is not seeing all the friends I made around the world," she said.

Wilma is now 30 pounds over her 1960 Olympics weight and she confines her exercise to a little running on the basketball court.

BACKING EDITH
"Training was hard, but it was rewarding and I don't regret the things that I had to miss because of my running. I'm still young enough to enjoy more sponse to the needs of the people."

"If Republicans ask that the federal government should not get too strong, the state, city and county governments must improve," he said. "We must exercise our own responsibilities of citizenship to keep government in our own hands."

Declaring his support for the GOP ticket from presidential nominee Barry Goldwater "all the way down," Eisenhower said: "I'm here as a Republican—a Republican loyal to his party, respectful to the decisions made by the party, whether on the precinct, county, state or national level."

Two Motels Are Robbed Of $350

READING, Pa. (AP) — An armed bandit held up the Reading Motor Lodge Monday night and about a half hour later held up the Holiday Inn Motel, on Route 222, just outside the city, police reported.

The lone bandit got a total of about $350 in the two holdups, police said.

Another Holiday Inn Motel, near Allentown, was robbed early Monday for the second time in less than 24 hours.

Police said they believed the same man has been responsible for these and other holdups in the Allentown, Phillipsburg, N.J., area since mid-September.

Six previous holdups believed pulled by the same bandit netted about $1,500.

COURT ORDERS TRIAL OF TWO FOR ESPIONAGE

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Neither a presidential campaign or a government - dropped spy case is sufficient reason to further postpone the trial here of two men accused of espionage, a U.S. District Court judge has ruled.

The trial of John W. Butenko, 39, Orange, an American engineer, and Igor A. Ivanov, 34, a Russian chauffeur, now is scheduled to begin in U.S. District Court Friday.

The two are accused of conspiring to transmit vital defense information to the Soviet Union. They were arrested last Oct. 29 in an Englewood train station. A brief case containing Air Force documents was seized by FBI agents at the time of the arrests.

LAST MINUTE MOVE
A last-minute motion for a two - month adjournment was made by defense lawyers Monday just before the scheduled start of the trial.

U.S. District Court Judge Anthony T. Augelli dismissed the motion but granted the defense an additional three days.

Raymond A. Brown, Butenko's attorney, argued for adjournment on two grounds.

Brown said that Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater has called President Johnson "soft on communism." He estimated the trial would last about a month, ending around election day, Nov. 3.

HALTED TRIAL
"Anyone on trial for espionage is in danger of having the minds of jurors contaminated by these extraneous matters," Brown added.

Brown also argued that jurors would be prejudiced by the government's action of last Friday, when it dropped the prosecution of an alleged husband-wife spy team in Brooklyn, N.Y.

The government halted the

Syncom To Relay Tokyo Broadcast

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and two Japanese officials will speak Wednesday on the inaugural telecast from Tokyo to the United States via the Syncom satellite.

The link will be used to carry the Olympic Games, which start in Tokyo Friday morning.

The transmission will take place between 9:15 and 9:45 a.m. EST and will include talks previously recorded by Johnson and Rusk, plus live speeches by Japanese Foreign Minister Etsuburo Shima and Communications Minister Zitsuzo Tokuyasu.

NASA said each of the major U.S. television networks will transmit one five-minute segment Wednesday.

Wants Newsmen On Patrol Ships

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., urged the Defense Department Monday to permit accreditation of U.S. correspondents to Navy ships patrolling off the Vietnamese coast.

The Defense Department said Wilson's telegram to Secretary Robert S. McNamara had been received, but that there had been no reply to it and that there was no comment.

Wilson said he made the request because the American people "obviously aren't getting the full story of what's going on in Viet Nam."

a full social life, and that's about the only thing I missed in college."

Wilma's successor as the fastest woman in this country is Edith McGuire, a member of the U.S. Olympic team. Wilma won't say how she thinks Edith will perform in Tokyo but adds that "records are made to be broken."

"I hope that Edith can break mine this year."

TO TRY FOR 500 M.P.H. WEDNESDAY

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Art Arfons, who traveled faster Monday than any man before him in a land-bound car, set his sights today on going even faster.

The speed record that Arfons broke with a run of 434.02 miles an hour in his jet-powered car was set only last Friday in a car designed by his brother Walt.

Art Arfons planned to spend today rechecking his car, the Green Monster. If all is well, he intends to try for 500 m.p.h. Wednesday.

Arfons' first run Monday on the one-mile course at these western Utah salt flats was timed at 396 m.p.h. But he turned his 17,000-horsepower car around and headed back at 479 m.p.h.

TRUE AUTO SPEED?
The average of 434.02 m.p.h. becomes the official record, topped the 413.20 m.p.h. clocked by Tom Green in Walt Arfons' car last week.

Some speed experts contend neither of the Arfons brothers' times is a true auto speed record because the wheels of jet cars are not driven directly by the engines.

The International Auto Federation in Paris recognizes as the world record 403.14 m.p.h. set last July in Australia by Donald Campbell of Great Britain in a turbine-powered car.

The U.S. Auto Club has an unlimited jet category, into which Arfons' record fits.

DIRTY ELECTIONS
America Always Survives Fury and Froth
Honest Records Of Good Men Also Survive

By JIM DAN HILL

THE DIRTIEST, NASTIEST presidential campaign of record is not the one now in progress — assuming this one gets no worse. Furthermore, the Very Reverend Francis B. Sayre, dean of Washington's Protestant Episcopal Cathedral, grandson of former President Wilson and warm admirer of the late J. F. K., should take heart. Both the candidates in that dirtier election are today correctly considered among America's greatest statesmen.

Dean Sayre revealed an amazing lack of understanding when he said the electorate this year is left "homeless by such a pair of nominees." Unhappy choice between two "unworthy" candidates is the complaint of thousands of pessimistic voters ever election year.

European history, however, has proved that a sovereignty of the people cannot function where there are as many political parties as there are conflicting issues.

Popular government grew in England and has flourished in America because of a mass willingness to consolidate conflicting ideas into two major parties and to accept the winner — until the next election!

ADMITTEDLY, both the President and Senator Goldwater have made charges and innuendoes that have not enhanced their reputations for poised oratory. Moreover, the hatchet-man instincts of their own chosen and respective running mates are even more appalling.

Congressman Miller has always had a gravelly voice and a sandpaper tongue. In the role of an attacker, his blatant bluntness surprises no one. For loquacious ducking, when confronted by a specific query or a burning issue, Senator Humphrey has long been recognized as an expert. His ability to combine duckmanship with a side slipping counter-charge, slick allegation, or smear innuendo is a heretofore unrevealed range of his versatile versatility.

Meanwhile, let us hope that a century from now, when sound and fury are no more and the froth of this election has blown away, that all four of these candidates will be held in as high esteem as John Quincy Adams and Andrew Jackson (for President) amid their V.P. candidates, Richard Rush and John C. Calhoun. They smeared it through to a slimy finish in 1828.

ANDREW JACKSON, with specious half truths, had been documented as a home destroyer, with having lived in sin with the wife he led astray with a phony marriage that he had later validated with a second legal ceremony.

The facts discredit Jackson as a lawyer. They do not detract from the character of either himself or Mrs. Jackson. Both Rachel and Andrew thought her divorce, from a frontier vagabond named Robards, was final before the date of the first ceremony.

She was further portrayed as a crude, ignorant, pipe-smoking, frontier slattern incapable of the niceties of cultured life. ders was a sensitive spirit. It is still argued and Jackson himself believed that the campaign slanders killed her. She died a month after the election.

Meanwhile, the land was flooded with ghastly woodcut prints of six coffins each bearing a name. Collectively they charged Jackson with six murders.

Most historians have underrated Jackson as a general and overrated him as a statesman. All agree that he was a great man and a good man with honorable intentions. That he and his followers lied maliciously and unmercifully about John Quincy Adams is understandable, but hardly excused.

THE JACKSONIANS had little or nothing on President John Q. Adams, so they created lies. They did have ballot statistics and House vote calls from 1824 and 1825. Jackson had led in the 1824 election but without a majority. The election had to be settled in Congress Henry Clay, the low candidate on the totem pole, was automatically eliminated. In the role of king-maker, he threw his strength to Adams, who was number two under Jackson. It had put J.Q.A. in the White House.

Immediate charges of fraud and corruption were investigated; never sustained, fully disproved. These were revived and expanded. Actually a more ethical, moral, conscientious president has never been in the White House.

Nevertheless, Adams was further accused of fraudulent expense accounts while a diplomat. He was said to have been a dissolute panderer to the crowned heads of Europe. He had facilitated the seduction of an American girl by the Czar of Russia. Almost as bad, he was also addicted to drinking expensive account booze from gold goblets.

He was accused of installing a billiard table in the White House. The rough, robust democracy of that era was appalled. Any man who could not drink a billiard, which could hardly be more potent than apple-jack, without a padded, mahogany table to drape himself upon, had no business being in the White House. Jackson was elected.

Thus the Very Reverend Sayre's pessimism is not shared. It is believed our modern and more discriminating generation of voters will be more able to ignore the sound, fury and froth. Thoughtful citizens will look for merit rather than lack of merit. They will consider issues rather than distorting tissues of half truths.

Boys Build Wall Around Girls' Dorm
SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Housemother Sarah Hagerty reported that someone literally tried to keep the coeds boarded up at her San Jose State College boarding house.

An 8-foot-wall of cemented concrete blocks confronted her when she opened the front door Monday morning.

"It was college boys," she guessed, as she dismantled the still-wet wall.

DEFENDS HIS VOTE IN SENATE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — U.S. Sen. Hugh Scott today defended his vote in Congress in 1948 in favor of the Bulwinkle Bill, which exempted railroads from federal antitrust laws in certain instances.

Scott, a Republican seeking reelection, said his Democratic opponent, Genevieve Blatt, had sought to make an issue of his "yes" vote without pointing out that every other member of Pennsylvania's congressional delegation—both Democrat and Republican—supported the measure.

"My apparent opponent said at a Blair County Picnic on Sept. 7 that in 1948, while a member of the U. S. House of Representatives, I cast a 'notorious' vote in support of a bill removing the railroads from coverage under the antitrust laws from certain kinds of agreements," Scott said in a statement. "She added that railroads and coal employment in Altoona suffered as a result."

"This is a fabricated story and a cruel hoax on the people of Altoona. My vote was cast for the Bulwinkle Bill on June 17, 1948, which was designed to help railroads, to relieve them of some of the harassment that has been so hurtful to this vital transportation industry."

"My apparent opponent did not say—as she never does when she tries to trick the voters—that every Pennsylvania member of the House of Representatives who voted on this bill, both Democrats and Republicans voted as I did. So did both our Senators."

Scott released the statement as he was campaigning in Philadelphia. He planned to go to Altoona later in the day and to make a live television broadcast tonight.

Javits Debates Election Support
SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., says he has not decided how he will cast his ballot in the presidential election but "I am not going to leave it blank."

"I cannot and do not support the Goldwater ticket for election," Javits told Syracuse University students Monday night. He added: "I am not prepared to support President Johnson."

He said that, if election results do not show a "great rank-and-file support" of Sen. Barry Goldwater's position, "there will be a great effort by the moderates to win back the (Republican) party and I will be part of that effort."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fullback J. D. Smith, the San Francisco 49ers' top ground gainer for the past five seasons, will be out for the year.

The club made the announcement Monday, two weeks after Smith was hurt in the 49ers' 28-24 victory over Philadelphia. A spokesman said the star fullback will be operated on this week for cartilage damage to his left knee.

Kennedy Hedges Population Query

NEW YORK (AP) — A student at Columbia University asked Robert F. Kennedy Monday night what he plans to do about the population explosion if he is elected to the U.S. Senate.

Kennedy replied that he did not know if he was the right person to answer the question. His wife, expecting their ninth child, joined the laughter.

Kennedy, Democratic candidate for the Senate then answered the question seriously. He said it's a personal matter in the United States, but critical and demanding of a solution in certain other countries.

COUNCIL SAYS CHURCH IS NOT "BLAMELESS" IN UNITY SPLIT

By GERALD MILLER
VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican Ecumenical Council, in a historic vote Monday, overwhelmingly agreed that the Roman Catholic Church was not blameless in the discords that have split the Christian world.

The council — a gathering of Roman Catholic prelates from around the world — also voted approval of an exhortation for all Catholics to work for Christian unity.

Both votes came as balloting started in the assembly in St. Peter's on a crucial schema on Christian unity, "De Decumenismo"—on ecumenism.

TAKE FOUR VOTES

Altogether four votes were taken on various parts of the first of three chapters in the schema.

In the voting, the prelates: —Accepted a statement that restoration of Christian unity was a main aim of the council, 2,094-16.

—Affirmed that Christ had desired unity of all men, 2,081-30.

—Deplored differences that have caused separations in Christianity, and declared that such separations occurred "sometimes not without fault on both sides," 2,051-57.

—Approved an appeal to Catholics to work for Christian unity, advising them to avoid mis-truths about other Christians and to follow lives that would bring credit to the Catholic Church in the eyes of non-Catholics, 2,056-50.

PROTESTANT REFERENCE

Council spokesmen, briefing newsmen on the activities in the closed council session in St. Peter's, said the voting Monday, in effect, also approved a historic new Roman Catholic way to refer to Protestants. The document uses the term churches, and not communities or sects, as in the past.

The spokesman explained that there was no direct vote on this wording, but that the approved articles were phrased in this manner.

Along with modernization of the Roman Catholic Church, the issue of unity was the outstanding objective foreseen for the council by Pope John XXIII when he called it together.

Pope Paul VI has made it clear that he regards the issue the same way.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — William G. Contres, of York, Pa., and Irv J. Frey, of Hamburg, Pa., made top showings in the 27th annual National Truck Rodeo. Contres defeated defending champion Fred G. Staudt, of Secaucus, N.J., in the three-axle tractor-trailer division, 457-409, at the end of the four-day competition Saturday. Frey defeated Donald A. Robinson, of Andover, Mass., in the four-axle tractor-trailer division.

ter's Basilica to vote on the three chapters of the unity schema, and individual articles within the chapters.

The voting was expected to last four days and include 11 ballots on the separate articles and a final 3 votes accepting or rejecting each chapter.

The unity schema in 1963 had five chapters, including one on the Church's relations with the Jews and another on religious liberty. A number of council fathers argued at last year's session that these two subjects did not bear directly on the question of relations between Catholics and other Christians. The two chapters were made into draft declarations appended to the schema.

VOTE ON REVISIONS

Debate on them concluded last week. They are now undergoing revision for a vote expected in several weeks.

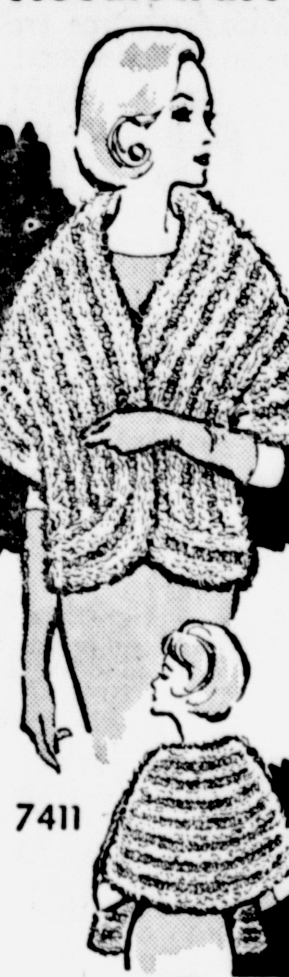

The first chapter of the schema discusses principles of ecumenism. The second talks of ways to apply the principles. The third covers the specific problems of the Church's relations with other Christians — Orthodox, Protestant and Anglican.

Since last year's council session, experts from the Vatican's Christian Unity Secretariat have rewritten the chapters on the basis of suggestions made by more than 500 of the bishops.

Sources in the secretariat said objections by non-Catholic observer delegates to the council were carefully looked over by the secretariat and were found useful in drawing up the final drafts.

The sources reported that the new version of the schema takes into account the view that the Catholic Church was not blameless in the historical splits that divided Christianity.

BRITISH RACE IS PICKING UP

By MILTON MARMOR

LONDON (AP)—The British election campaign has begun to liven up the last few days. Heckling is again in flower, but to oldtimers things still aren't what they used to be. They used to throw eggs and tomatoes.

Sir Alec Douglas-Home, the Conservative party prime minister who is leading his party into the Oct. 15 election, faced hecklers at almost every stop during a tour of northwest London.

George Brown, Labor's deputy leader, had a rough time from youngsters in Northamptonshire.

Reginald Maudling, chancellor of the exchequer, was bombarded with modeling clay.

Yet it's a far cry from the elections in Charles Dickens' day in the last half of the 19th century. At rallies in those days 250 or more demonstrators would be arrested at one time.

Lt. Col. Sir Thomas Moore, Conservative who gained his first election to Parliament in 1924, recalls he held 36 meetings in a fortnight, and half of them ended in a free-for-all.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

CLEANSING OILY SKIN. Experts are agreed that the first step in the control of oily skin is absolute cleanliness. As a cleanser, soap-and-water of course is indispensable.

But for the reason that modern make-up is largely water-resistant, it has to be floated away before sudsing with a cosmetic remover — a cleansing cream or lotion. Most removers, however, are formulated with a heavy concentration of oil. This makes use on any oily skin less than ideal.

Thus special formulas have been sought, and found. One type takes the form of oily skin liquid cleanser. Nonoily, the ingredients remove both makeup and excess surface oils. Yet, owing to a delicate acid-alkaline balance, the skin retains the moisture necessary for dewiness.

Complexion lotion is still another approach. In this type, there's a blend of cleansing, healing and moisturizing ingredients. Applications are made on a damp washcloth and rinsed off with clear water. A second application may be used as a powder base or night lotion.

But beware! As good as those cleansers are, they are only as good as the use you make of them. Cleansing oily skin is no slapdash affair. Careless cleansups foster, if not cause, blackheads, enlarged pores and more serious blemishes. The face never looks fresh or glowy.

Whatever your skin problems, to find a solution send for my booklet, "A LOVELIER COMPLEXION." 10,000 Irishmen Parade On Sunday

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Police stood by Sunday and didn't interfere as 10,000 Irish nationalists paraded in downtown Belfast during an election rally.

There was no violence in contrast to four previous nights of rioting that left 70 injured in the West Belfast area, which is heavily populated with Roman Catholics. The majority of Northern Ireland's population is Protestant.

The Republicans are contesting 10 of 12 seats in the British House of Commons. The Republicans want Northern Ireland's six counties to join the Irish Free State's 26 counties to the south.

President Ousts Syrian Premier

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — President Amin Hafez has taken over the premiership of Syria from Salah Bitar in a government shakeup expected to result in a tougher stand toward neighboring Iraq.

Both men are members of Syria's ruling Baath Socialist party, which was toppled from power in Iraq last November. Bitar, 53, premier since March 1963, has been accused of appeasing Iraq, which is closely allied to President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic. Hafez, 51, is an avowed foe of Nasser.

The nation's revolutionary council accepted Bitar's resignation at a meeting Saturday night, a communique said.

EXPECT HEAVY FALL TRAVEL

Pennsylvania and the nation will enjoy a record fall season for motor vacations.

This prediction was made today by Mrs. Helen R. Bollinger, office manager of the AAA Gettysburg Motor Club, based on a recent American Automobile Association membership survey which revealed a heavy increase in preference for fall trips.

"The American motorist will travel, according to the AAA survey, a fantastic 30 billion miles on the nation's highways in vacation and pleasure travel this fall," Mrs. Bollinger said. "These motor travelers will spend nearly $7 billion on such trips."

The AAA club official noted that 23 per cent of the highway vacations are taken in the fall. Three years ago, as disclosed in a similar survey, the figure was 16 per cent.

Mrs. Bollinger also pointed out that the continually increasing interest in outdoor recreation is bringing about more weekend drives to areas of colorful fall foliage.

The growing number of visitors and campers to state parks is also accounting for increased weekend vacation travel during the fall months, she said, adding:

"The ever-expanding highway system also is making it easier for more dyed-in-the-wool alumni to reach their college town for the homecoming football game."

CATHOLICS USE PRESBYTERIAN CLASSROOMS

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The unusual is happening every day this fall on West Exchange Street — a half dozen nuns, wearing the habit of the Dominican Sisters, are working in the Westminster United Presbyterian church.

This advance in ecumenical spirit started a week before Labor Day. Our Lady of the Elms Roman Catholic School, across the street from the Presbyterian church, had a problem: opening of school was going to find them short of space for nursery and kindergarten classes.

A new building had been planned, but at a late stage it developed a new foundation would be needed and it could not be completed before Nov. 1.

Offers classrooms Mother Mary Eileen, Elms superior, and a colleague paid a visit to their neighbor, Dr. Noel A. Calhoun, Westminster church pastor. He offered them four large Sunday School classrooms and use of the kitchen and other equipment.

When Mother Eileen asked about rental, Dr. Calhoun replied: "Sister, we'll not even talk about that; we consider this our Christian duty."

Later the 21-member session of the United Presbyterian Church gave unanimous approval. Classes for 92 preschool tots from 3 to 5 years old moved in. REACT TO SPIRIT

"Five years ago, I don't believe those sisters would ever have walked into this building," Dr. Calhoun said. "There has been a softening on the part of Catholics through the great spirit of Pope John, and the Protestant world has reacted in turn."

"With this spirit alive, it would not behoove us to deny the space," Dr. Calhoun would have been happy to have his church's act of charity publicized, but the grateful sisters had a story printed in the Cleveland Diocesan weekly newspapers. Then mention followed in a national magazine.

"If the opportunity came, I feel there are other Presbyterian ministers who would do likewise," Dr. Calhoun said.

He said his "congregation is totally delighted" with the move. "There has been no unfavorable comment from any source," he said.

MARINES LACK NAVAL GUNFIRE FOR LANDINGS

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's top Marine said today there is "a deficiency" of naval gunfire to support over-the-beach landings and "remedial action is essential."

Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., Marine Corps commandant, discussed what he called a "gun gap" with The Associated Press following indications that the Navy is studying how to beef up its shore bombardment capability.

Not much has been said publicly, but both the Marines and the Navy amphibious forces have been concerned for some time that that capability has been reduced by the switch from conventional guns to missiles in the armaments of many warships since World War II and Korea.

MISSILES REPLACE GUNS

In a little-noticed passage of a recent speech, Greene said "the days of the 16-inch guns of the battleships are gone."

"Missiles have largely replaced the guns of the cruisers and destroyers," he said.

"Progress is being made in this area but it is slow, and we are anxious to have what could some day be a serious deficiency corrected before it becomes a serious reality." Asked to elaborate on this, Greene told The Associated Press in a statement that "any further reduction in the naval gunfire support means would materially affect the ability of landing forces to successfully force a landing against a defended beach."

DEFICIENCY EXISTS

"Since World War II and Korea the major caliber inventory in the active fleet has undergone a drastic reduction," he said.

"This situation has been brought about by the conversion of large numbers of ships from conventional guns to a missile capability."

"In view of this reduction without compensation for landing-force naval gunfire support requirements, a deficiency exists and it will become more critical until remedial action is completed."

WANT GAP REDUCED

Greene said there is no doubt "that a further reduction in available naval gunfire support will increase the 'gun gap' and reduce our shore bombardment capability."

The Navy and the Marine Corps, he said, are working jointly to reduce the gap.

There are indications that the Navy is considering an entirely new kind of gunfire support ship to provide a bombardment cover for any Marine or Army troops called upon to storm enemy beaches in the future.

PITT COURT STAR SHINES ON GRIDIRON

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Early in Pitt's victorious football game against William & Mary Saturday the public address system intoned: "Tackle by Generalovich." This brought a roar from Pitt fans.

This was not the first time Pitt rooters have cheered Brian Generalovich, but until this fall the cheers were for "The General's" feats on the basketball court.

Generalovich a student in the Pitt dental school, stayed away from the gridiron during his undergraduate days in favor of the hardwood, although he came to Pitt glowing credentials in both sports.

ALL-STATE IN BOTH

While a student at Farrell, Pa., High School he made the all-state teams in football and basketball.

His reason for not playing college football until this year, the only one he will be eligible for, "It would have been too much of a strain on me," he says. It's kind of hard to play both in college and do your best in both. It's like being a jack of all trades and master of none."

ANOTHER REASON

There is another reason. "Basketball is my first love," says the player who led the Pitt quintet to two post-season tournaments in his three years of varsity play.

But against William & Mary, a game in which he saw action every quarter, Generalovich showed he has nothing against football either.

Although he didn't have any passes thrown to him, Generalovich, an end—he was a tackle in high school—was in on several tackles.

Columbia Accepts Eisenhower Bust

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower r.p erdeintoCUBm-inl oia er, president of Columbia University from 1948 until he became president of the United States in 1952, returned to the campus Monday.

The occasion was a ceremony in which a bronze bust of Eisenhower was given to the university. Eisenhower described his years as president of the university as "among the most enjoyable instructive and fruitful in my entire life."

The 18-inch sculpture, given to the university by a group of alumni, was created by Antonio Salemme.

3 CONVICTED IN CONSPIRACY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A federal jury convicted three Philadelphia men Monday on charges of conspiracy in connection with a case involving alleged auto loan kickbacks.

Joseph W. Maida, 53, Frederick M. Fiegenberg, 59, and Marvin Yentis, 39, face sentence of up to 20 years imprisonment and $40,000 in fines.

Judge John W. Lord Jr. postponed sentencing pending motions for a new trial.

All three were convicted of conspiracy to influence a witness in a federal case, obstruct justice, bribe a witness and defraud the United States.

Fiegenberg is a former deputy state attorney general and an attorney for 37 years. Maida works in the office of Magistrate William Cibotti. Yentis is the owner of a South Philadelphia automobile agency.

DELAY FILLING PA. FISH JOB

HARRISBURG (AP) — The president of the State Fish Commission says the post of executive director probably will not be filled until January, at the earliest.

Raymond M. Williams, of East Bangor said the nine-member commission was giving the opening "further continuing study."

The commission met Monday and, among other things, approved a 1965-66 fishing season with no major changes from the current one. No action was taken on filling the executive director's post.

The commission last July dismissed Albert M. Day from the $14,657-a-year job. In the interim, Robert J. Bielo, Day's top assistant, has been serving as acting executive director at no increase in his $10,900 salary.

Bielo has been one of three men considered most likely to be selected for the job. The others are Charles K. Fox of Carlisle, an outdoor editor, and George M. Harvey, physical education professor at Pennsylvania State University.

Williams said he has talked with individual members of the commission, although not all of them, about potential successors to Day.

APPROVE GRANT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Urban Renewal Administration on Monday approved a $7,500 grant to Lock Haven, Pa., to aid in purchase of the 70-acre Bickford property for park and recreational purposes.

Youth Sentenced; Killed His Mother

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Wendell Pinder, 17, has been sentenced to 10 to 20 years in prison for stabbing his mother to death in their Philadelphia home last Jan. 24.

He pleaded guilty to a general charge of murder, and testified that on the night of the stabbing his mother, Margaret, 36, had been drinking and struck him with a broom handle. He said his mother had abused and beaten him for years when drunk.

His mother died of 86 stab wounds from a paring knife.

Three judges sitting en banc fixed the charge at second degree murder and handed down the sentence to Eastern Correctional Institution.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—George T. Howard, a 34-year-old part-time postal worker, has been charged with setting six fires during the last 10 days in North Philadelphia.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 88th Congress, which just finished its two-year existence, had a split personality.

It was delinquent in its first year, 1963, almost juvenile in shirking its responsibility to act.

Its biggest achievement was approval of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

This year it did one of the biggest turnabouts in history, putting on an active, productive performance unequaled in a generation.

BEGAN AFTER JFK

The switch began after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated in 1963 and Lyndon B. Johnson became President. When Congress came back in 1964 for its second session it was almost as if House and Senate had gone through a purgation of the spirit. It went to work.

Johnson, a far better handler of Congress than Kennedy, pushed the legislators' noses to the grindstone.

He pushed them, met with them, undoubtedly twisted their arms.

OTHER FACTORS

But there may have been other factors — particularly Kennedy's death — responsible for their sudden earnest, even zealous, attention to the job.

Kennedy's death was such a shock, such a disruption in American life, a restoration of national confidence, unity and harmony was needed.

The engine of government had to start moving again, fast and smoothly.

Perhaps the realization of this and a desire by the legislators to overcome regret at having done so little Kennedy asked also underlay the sudden spurt.

HIS FIRST MAJOR ONE

Most of the programs they pushed through this year were Kennedy programs from the year before.

For example: a $11.5-billion income tax cut and the civil rights bill, the most far-reaching in 100 years.

Johnson worked for all of Kennedy's major programs. His own first major program, an antipoverty measure, was also approved in 1964.

But as the time for the presidential and congressional election campaigns drew near Congress let itself get mixed up in one of its typical snafus.

ABANDONED TRY

This was a fight over a proposal to slow down the Supreme Court's ruling on legislative reapportionment and, in effect, rebuke the court for daring to assert its authority over a field so political as legislatures.

The House passed one kind of measure, the Senate another. At the very end of the session the whole thing was abandoned.

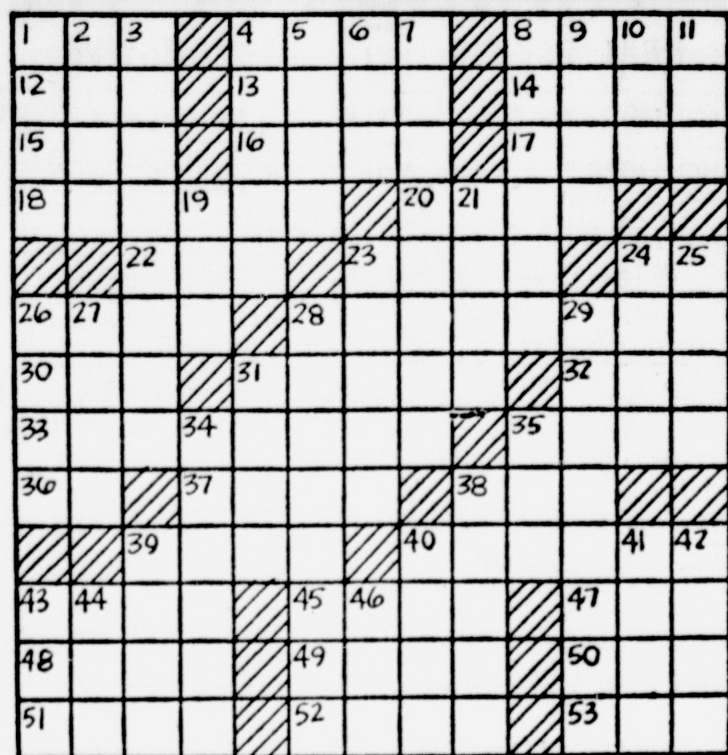

Yet, without the fight of liberal senators to block this kind of legislation or at least water it down, it seems certain the court would have been rebuked.

What effect this might have had on American history is anyone's guess. No doubt this sore subject will be resurrected in next year's Congress.

UNFINISHED JOBS

In the end, two of Johnson's most important programs were left undone by both houses whose members were anxious to scurry home to campaign to keep their jobs:

1. Linking medical care for the aged to Social Security. This, a holdover from Kennedy's days, will come up next year again. Neither Kennedy nor Johnson was ever able to overcome the resistance of one man above all others, Rep. Wilbur Mills, Arkansas Democrat.

2. Johnson's $1.06-billion Appalachia program for the rehabilitation of the dilapidated areas in 11 states. This, no doubt, will be revived next year.

This year the legislators voted themselves a salary increase of $7,500, from $22,500 to $30,000 a year, along with smaller boosts for thousands of other government workers. They upped cash benefits for veteran pensioners about 5 per cent.

NOT INVINCIBLE

But they did nothing about increasing cash benefits for people receiving Social Security payments.

These setbacks for Johnson tattered any myth about his invincibility with Congress. Nevertheless, it set an historic record and enacted 24 of Johnson's 30 principal "must" measures.

Democrats outnumbered Republicans 2 to 1 in the Senate, 3 to 2 in the House and will argue in this campaign that if they had more Democrats they could

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 6, the 280th day of 1964. There are 86 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1927, the era of talking pictures began with "The Jazz Singer," starring Al Jolson in New York.

On this date In 1683, the first German settlers arrived in Philadelphia.

In 1889, Thomas A. Edison demonstrated his kinetoscope, making motion pictures an accomplished feat.

In 1890, the Church of the Latter-day Saints — Mormon — abolished polygamy.

In 1918, American and French forces crossed the Aisne River in France forcing the Germans to retreat on a 28-mile front.

In 1941, the New York Yankees won the World Series, beating the Brooklyn Dodgers, four games to one.

Ten years ago — The Vain have done better.

SCRIBE GIVES HER VIEWS ON OLD TV SHOWS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Jackie Gleason's move to Miami has not — so far — made any difference in the format and quality of his show. The only thing that seems faintly new is that Joe the Bartender now is parting his hair on the side instead of the middle.

"The Defenders" last week wound up a delightful two-part story, full of warmth and gentle humor.

"Gunsmoke" continues about as usual, except Matt Dillon's sidekick is an unshaven fellow who isn't as appealing as Chester. And I'm worried about Kitty, Matt's unskipped lady friend for these 10 years. She has taken to drinking neat whiskey after all this years of toying with a mug of beer. Maybe Doc better speak to her.

SOME EVIL SPIRITS

Many of the old shows are back and in pretty good shape.

But some evil spirits are apparently affecting too many of the new programs. With a few very notable exceptions, the quality of the new shows seems way off. The stories are often silly and dull and the characters are just not interesting.

The general level of network television is so pedestrian that on a recent night a showing of a fairly recent feature movie romped off with all the ratings honors.

The problem is compounded by viewers who have seen so many programs on so many nights that we are becoming harder and harder to please.

PREMIER TONIGHT

A case in point was Friday night's Bob Hope Theater on NBC, a piece of light-hearted idiosyncrasy called "Think Pretty," which provided some pretty brittle bones to support an appearance by Fred Astaire and Barrie Chase. Occasionally, Astaire and Miss Chase would break into a dance and while that lasted, all was well. Then we'd go back to a silly story about an adventure in the record-making business.

Maybe if so many of us were not entertained sated we might find television a lot better than we think it is.

Recommended tonight: "90 Bristol Court," premiere, NBC, 7:30-9 EDT — Three separate but related situation comedies; "Andy Williams Show," NBC, 9-10 — premiere as a weekly show with Jack Benny and Jonathan Winters; "The Alfred Hitchcock Show," NBC, 10-11 — return to NBC with a story of political vengeance starring Peter Fonda.

Five years ago — A House committee opened hearings in Washington on charges of alleged rigging of television quiz programs.

One year ago — The Los Angeles Dodgers won the World Series in a four-game sweep over the New York Yankees.

tarnas Dam, largest urban water supply project in India since World War II, was completed, supplying additional water to Bombay.

In 1890, the Church of the Latter-day Saints — Mormon — abolished polygamy.

In 1918, American and French forces crossed the Aisne River in France forcing the Germans to retreat on a 28-mile front.

In 1941, the New York Yankees won the World Series, beating the Brooklyn Dodgers, four games to one.

Ten years ago — The Vain have done better.

But with the numbers they had it's hard to see this is an excuse for not doing more.
